Wintertime Ozone Production Issue in the Uinta Basin+GF edits (003) CD review.docx

Maybe let Mike know that we are putting a Uinta Basin issue paper forward for the WGA meeting that the Administrator will be attending. It will have suggested talking points for discussing with the UT Gov. We are still working on it.

If it gets to the Administrator it may be his first R8 issue!

Here is what Martin and I have for the last bullet, which will now be the talking point (the rest being background).

Key Messages

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

Also add to background:

- An estimated 75% of the oil and gas sources are on the Uintah and Ouray Indian Reservation where EPA is the regulatory authority under the Clean Air Act. The remaining sources are located on state land and are subject to Utah's Division of Air Quality requirements.

Gail and I have reviewed/edited these Uinta Basin ozone talking points.

I think this format is fine to give to Jody for the WGA meeting as it focuses on just ozone in the Basin. The Hot Issue paper will be more focused the draft FIP.

Take a look at the last point as it does touch on EPA's draft rulemaking.

~~Hi Carl – Attached is what I got from Jody/Chris D with some quick edits from me. Jody said~~

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

If we want to proceed with this, maybe I should put this into the new e-briefing format and I can spend some more time on the content. Just didn't want to waste a bunch of time if we don't want to push this.

Thanks,

Gail
